Books . . .

Two AACE members have recently written new books.

H. Carl Bauman of American Cyanamid Co. is the author of Fundamentals of Cost Engineering in the Chemical Industry. As the title implies, capital cost estimating, manufacturing cost estimating, and cost control are covered. (Published by Reinhold Publishing Co.)

John Gladstone, President of Mechanical Estimators, Inc., has written Mechanical Estimator's Guide. This book gives unit costs for many items such as piping, insulation, tanks, tools, pumps, instrumentation, and the like. The first chapter, "Estimating Miscellany," contains definitions and discussions of forms and methods. (Published by Technical Guide Publications).

. . . and Pamphlets

A pamphlet that would explain to engineering colleges the reasons for including Cost Engineering material in the curricula and advise how such inclusion could be accomplished is being prepared by the Education Committee. Chairman of the panel is E. H. Weinurm, professor of accounting, De Paul University, Chicago.
